

Newnham College

Kitchen Fixed Charge / Buttery Pre-Paid Meal Plan

The Kitchen Fixed Charge (KFC) is a fee that Newnham students pay, alongside their rent, as part of being a member of the College.

The Buttery Pre-paid Meal Plan (BPMP) is an amount that you commit to spending in the Buttery each term.

Under the Newnham KFC / BPMP scheme, you choose one of 5 options, depending on what will be best value for you. It's a bit like mobile phone payment plans.

This document explains how to choose your KFC / BPMP option. Alternatively, you can just go for the default (Option 2).

What is the KFC?

Newnham students have the choice of cooking for themselves in student kitchens, eating in the Buttery, eating at Formal Hall when available, along with other options.

The KFC covers the aspects of your College life that relate to food and cooking:

- Providing and maintaining student kitchens
- A contribution towards the running costs of the Buttery
- A contribution towards student formal dining events

Students will use the College catering facilities in different ways, depending on what suits you, your studies and your friends.

What are the choices for food and cooking at Newnham?

The Buttery offers hot meals, a salad bar and sandwiches at lunch time and in the evening. The meals are good value, and there's a range of options including vegetarian and vegan food. This has the advantage that you'll get tasty, fresh food, and you don't need to do so much shopping and cooking for yourself. The Buttery team work hard to make sure there are plenty of healthy options, alongside the puddings and famous Fish Friday.

Newnham has exceptionally good student kitchen facilities, so our students do more cooking than at other Colleges. This has the advantage that you can cook and eat whatever you like, at a time that suits you. Most students do some of their own cooking, alongside eating elsewhere.

There are occasional special Formal Halls (formal dinners in College Hall) which everyone is invited to, such as at your Matriculation and Graduation. There are also regular Formal Halls which you can choose to go to – maybe to celebrate a birthday.

There's also the Café, where you can relax with coffee, cakes, sandwiches and so on (the BPMP can't be used against expenditure in the Café or Bar).

Under the Newnham KFC/BPMP scheme, you have five options as to how you choose to cover your catering costs, based on which you think will be the most appropriate option for you.

If you feel you're going to use the Buttery a lot this year, you can choose to commit to spending more in the Buttery and pay a lower KFC.

If you feel that you're going to use the Buttery rarely, you can choose to pay a higher KFC and have no commitment to spending in the Buttery.

If you feel that you are somewhere in between, you can choose to pay a medium amount for the KFC, and commit to spending a medium amount on food.

You choose your option at the beginning of the academic year and are charged accordingly.

New undergraduates can change their KFC/BPMP option until the end of October.

What is the BPMP?

The Buttery Pre-paid Meal Plan (BPMP) is an amount that you commit to spending in the Buttery each term.

For example, on the default option (Option 2), you pay at the start of term for £100 of meals from the Buttery (this is about 3 main meals a week over 10 weeks). If you actually spend less than this, you lose the unspent credit. If you spend more than this, you will be charged for the extra amount on your next term's bill.

You will be able to view details of your remaining credit by logging in to a website from your mobile device or computer.

In detail

If, as an undergraduate, you choose the standard Option 2 (an annual KFC of £375 and a BPMP of £300), you will be billed the £125 termly KFC and the £100 termly BPMP on your Michaelmas bill covering the period 1 October to 31 December. You will be billed another £125 KFC and £100 BPMP on your Lent bill covering the period 1 January to 31 March, and a final bill of £125 KFC and £100 BPMP for 1 April to 30 June.

If you spend less than £100 in the Buttery in any of these three month periods, you will lose the unspent credit. If you spend more than £100 in any of these three month periods, you will be charged for the excess over £100 on the next term's bill.

Your BPMP can be used for any Buttery item, including pints of milk, sandwiches etc.

What are the different options?

Options are as follows for students living in College accommodation:

Option 1 – for people who use the Buttery very little or who are unable to use the Buttery
Annual KFC	£450 (£150 per term)
Annual BPMP	£0
Option 2 – for people who use the Buttery occasionally (suggested / default option)
Annual KFC	£375 (£125 per term)
Annual BPMP	£300 (£100 per term) This would cover around 3 meals a week in a 10 week term.
Option 3 – for people who use the Buttery regularly
Annual KFC	£300 (£100 per term)
Annual BPMP	£450 (£150 per term) This would cover around 4 to 5 meals a week in a 10 week term.
Option 4 – for people who use the Buttery frequently
Annual KFC	£225 (£75 per term)
Annual BPMP	£600 (£200 per term) This would cover around 5 to 7 meals a week in a 10 week term.
Option 5 – for people who use the Buttery on most days
Annual KFC	£150 (£50 per term)
Annual BPMP	£750 (£250 per term) This would cover around 6-8 meals a week in a 10 week term.

How do I choose my KFC / BPMP option?

If you're not sure what to choose, we recommend that you choose Option 2. New undergraduates can change their KFC/BPMP option for the year, if the Bursary is notified before the end of October.

This assumes you'll eat around 3 meals a week in the Buttery, which our data shows is about average for undergraduates across all years. In your first year, you might want to choose to eat more meals in the Buttery, to make shopping and cooking easier.

When you come to choose your option for the next year, we will provide you with details of your historic spend in the Buttery.

For this year, we have not provided details of your Buttery expenditure in 2019-20 as for most students this did not show a full year of expenditure.

To help make your decision, the following information comes from the Buttery:
